

People

Who is who?

There are seven categories of people:

- Teachers and other adults in school
- Friends
- Family and/or carers
- Police
- Health professionals
- People connected with your religion
- Other professionals.

Teachers and other adults

'Teachers and other adults in school' means adults employed directly by your school whom you have contact with – teachers, teaching assistants, caretakers, office staff, etc. However, it excludes health staff, police officers, etc who may work on the school site.

Friends

'Friends' refers to friends of a similar age to yourself, either from school or from elsewhere.

Family and/or carers

'Family and/or carers' means parents, foster parents, carers, grandparents, uncles, aunts and other adults who form part of your extended family. It also includes adults whom you know through your family, eg your parents' friends.

Police

'Police' refers to anyone involved in the legal system whom you have contact with, including community support officers, members of the youth offending service, etc.

Health professionals

'Health professionals' means any doctors, nurses, dentists, counsellors, psychologists, etc whom you have contact with.

People in your religion

'People connected with your religion' means any people you know through your religion or through attending religious functions who do not fall into one of the other categories.

Other professionals

'Other professionals' refers to adults whom you have contact with who do not fall into one of the other categories, for example, social workers, business people, etc.

Examples

For each of the examples below and on pages 3 and 4 of people whom David has contact with, say what category they fit into.

- His father

- His science teacher

- Mr Ayuba who runs the local boys' football club on Saturday

- His mum's best friend, Angharad

- Richard, whom he goes to football with

- Ms Hillman, who runs a Young Enterprise after-school club

- Dr Gunawardena, the family GP

- Mr Davis, a teaching assistant who helps David in his maths group

- Juan, the Spanish exchange student who visited last year and who still corresponds by email

- The school nurse

- The school caretaker

- Sean, who works at the church youth group

- The school's welfare officer whom he spoke to when his grandfather died

- The educational psychologist that the school's welfare officer brought in to talk to David about his grandfather

- The community support officer who gave a presentation at the drugs awareness workshop

Answers

- His father
Family and/or carers
- His science teacher
Teachers and other adults in school
- Mr Ayuba who runs the local boys' football club on Saturday
Other professionals
- His mum's best friend, Angharad
Family and/or carers – The 'friends' category is for friends of a similar age, while the 'family' category includes his 'extended family' of adults
- Richard, whom he goes to football with
Friends
- Ms Hillman, who runs a Young Enterprise after-school club
Other professionals
- Dr Gunawardena, the family GP
Health professionals
- Mr Davis, a teaching assistant who helps David in his maths group
Teachers and other adults in school
- Juan, the Spanish exchange student who visited last year and who still corresponds by email
Friends
- The school nurse
Health professionals
- The school caretaker
Teachers and other adults in school
- Sean, who works at the church youth group
People connected with your religion
- The school's welfare officer whom he spoke to when his grandfather died
Teachers and other adults in school
- The educational psychologist that the school's welfare officer brought in to talk to David about his grandfather
Health professionals
- The community support officer who gave a presentation at the drugs awareness workshop
Police